

Community Development

The Sun of Hope takes care of holistic community development. Apart from the gospel it preaches in the villages, it is also involved in community development and training women to create income generating activities.

Several sessions are organized to teach women about hygiene and sanitation of the water.

Several villages now have gardens and common farms. This program helps communities to reduce the risk of disease but also creates financial resources for women who can now better help their families.

